Eagle Ranch Elementary School Special Education Teacher Honored By Teachers R Heroes

Semper fi. This was the phrase of the day at Eagle Ranch Elementary School when former marine and K – 12 teacher, Fran Watkins was honored in front of the administration, staff, peers and students. Two separate assemblies were held to provide all classes in the school an opportunity to share in the celebration. In a firm and gravelly voice she thanked everyone for their support.

Mrs. Watkins is to be lauded for having dedicated her many years of teaching with kids who have mental and physical challenges, wrote the person who nominated her. My son has had the pleasure of being a part of her class for the last 2 years. Mrs. Watkins has a special place in her heart for these kids and wants to see every one of them succeed. Each child that is in her class is on a different educational and developmental level and face different challenges everyday. Bless her heart for all the hard work and dedication to our loved one she gives everyday.
