

Keynote: VICKI Sanderson

Vicki Sanderson specializes in keynote addresses, customized workshops and seminars, in-house training and after dinner speaking. Vicki will challenge your group to be the very BEST they can be, at home and at work. Vicki delivers solid content with humor and high energy.

Vicki sparkles with enthusiasm and radiates an energy and excitement that is contagious to her audience members. She not only reaches the minds, but touches the hearts of every person who hears her. Everyone agrees... Vicki can make a world of difference..

She has been invited to speak in front of many corporations, associations, educational institutions, health care providers, and community organizations nationwide on a variety of topics...

Healthcare: Vicki conducts in-service training seminars to hospitals, healthcare organizations and national and state associations. She conducts workshops for maintenance, food service, nursing and administrators. Vicki's knowledge of inter-office staff relations can benefit physician's office personnel as well. She has conducted many all day hospital-sponsored events for the whole community.

Education: Vicki was a classroom speech and debate teacher for 12 years. She received the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers Honorary Life Membership Award in recognition of her outstanding and distinguished service to children. She conducts highly motivated and content filled presentations and in-service programs to administrators, teachers and support staff. She also services the community by offering programs to parents and students. She has spoken to many districts and state administrators conferences including the National Secondary School Principals Association, The Texas Elementary Principals and Supervisors Association and The Texas Association of Secondary School Principals.

Business and Industry: Vicki delivers keynote presentations, management retreats, staff relations seminars and all day training workshops. Some of her topics include customer service, change, leadership and team building. Vicki presents workshops for employees, support personnel, managers, CEO's and boards of directors.

Vicki has spoken to thousands of business employees, staff and managers and they all come away excited to be part of their company and ready to take steps to improve employee relations and the quality of their work.

Workshops:

Microsoft Word Forms: Microsoft Word has a forms feature that will allow you to automate many of the paper forms you use such as the syllabus, curriculum development forms, and many other reports. Bring a copy of your paper form to this learning event and you will learn how to create it in Microsoft Word.

Emerging Technology for the Classroom: Come see how new technology can greatly influence your ability to facilitate student learning.

Proactive Customer Service and Service Mentality: When you take your level of customer service from passive to proactive, you are exceeding your customer's expectations. In this session you learn to build rapport with your customer which leads to a greater level of satisfaction in the services that you provide.

A Cultural Bias Found in Education Today: This is a presentation of a hidden bias that is often found in higher education.

Bond Issue-Measure X: A discussion of VVC's General Obligation Bond on the November 7th ballot

Self-Defense:

Computer Keyboard Secrets: