Victor Valley College Hosts Community Open House Featuring Title V Labs

Victor Valley College announced this week that it will host a community "Open House" Wednesday, November 1, 2006 from 1:30 to 3:00 p.m. to preview Title V labs which will be used to assist students in a variety of subject areas. The open house will begin at the Student Activities Center located on the upper campus.

The open house and subsequent tours will showcase learning labs funded by grants secured by the college through the Hispanic Serving Institutions Program. On the tours, the college will introduce the community to facilities, software, and technology dedicated to enhance English as a Second Language, Math, Writing, and teacher learning skills. A tour of these facilities will take place from 2:00 – 3:00 p.m. at the Humanities Complex on the lower campus of the college on the corners of Fish Hatchery and Bear Valley Roads.

These Title V labs feature state-of-the art equipment and sophisticated software programs that will assist in the development of students learning through mastery of the subject. Included in the itinerary is a tour of the Teacher/ Learning Center which offers teachers the opportunity to learn how to effectively use technology in the classroom.
